

20-Year Industry-Leading Window Replacement Company's Efficiency & Effectiveness Reflected in High Profit Margin

This highly-rated window and door company has established a strong brand in the greater Portland, Oregon metro area.

The business' points of differentiation, tight operations & quality control, exceptional customer experience with best-in-industry service, and reputation have led to a durable competitive advantage: highly satisfied customers provide great ratings and reviews which makes it far easier to secure new customers as is evidenced by a high sale closing rate and low customer acquisition cost. This contributes to the business' higher-than industry profitability.

The owner has relentlessly focused on quality, service, and continual improvement resulting in an operationally excellent business. The owner would like to retire and let someone new take this turn-key business to the next level through geographic expansion, offering new products & services, greater marketing, or a roll-up of other companies in this highly fragmented industry. If an acquirer just continued the past five years' compound annual growth rate of 10.86%, it may be a great investment even without pursuing new strategic opportunities.

This business would be a good acquisition for another window and door contractor operating in another geographic market, a complementary construction trade business, or an individual looking for a solid platform business.

Why Customers Do Business With This Company

Over the past 20 years this company has built a well-regarded brand in the Portland, Oregon Metro market by providing a customer experience that exceeds expectations, the success of which is reflected in its high customer ratings and reviews on independent 3rd party sites like Google, Yelp, and Angie's List. Frequent customer feedback is that their window replacement experience has been the most transparent and unbelievably easy, yet major, construction project they've completed. These reviews and ratings, in turn, give future prospective customers the confidence to do business with the company.

Some of the features that contribute to the customer experience are no-cost in-home consultations, a conveniently-located 2,500 sq ft professional showroom, wide range of product selection that allows it to meet most customer needs, window installation is not sub-contracted, the company prepares Energy Trust of Oregon incentive applications for customers, there's quality control throughout the process, employees are trained to use professional systems & processes and provide exceptional customer service, and there is good communication throughout the process.

In short, this company has not lost sight of its goal: to provide an exceptional customer experience.

Evidence of its strong brand and value proposition include:

- Highly satisfied customers as evidenced by high ratings on third party review sites.
 - Google Reviews average rating of 4.9 out of 5 stars
 - Yelp Reviews average rating of 4.5 out of 5 stars
 - Angie's List 5 out of 5 stars
 - Facebook reviews average rating of 5 out of 5 stars
- A high sales closing ratio of 35%
- Low customer acquisition cost of $152 with contracts that average about $11,000. When combined with the business' high 35% sales closing ratio, the company's average cost to acquire a new customer is only $152 which further contributes to its profitability in comparison to companies that must spend far more money on advertising, marketing, and sales.
- A respectable level of repeat business (on an industry-relative basis). Due to the decades-long useful life of windows and customers who are primarily the homeowner, most of this company's customers are naturally one-time sales. However, there are some customers who generate repeat business – for example, they initially only replace some windows and later replace others, own multiple homes, or who move and replace windows in a new home that produce repeat business. From 2014 to 2021 over 9% of customers produced revenue in at least 2 out of 8 years, and over 1% produced revenue in at least 3 out of the past 8 years. This repeat business, along with word-of-mouth, and third-party customer reviews reflect the strong goodwill created over 20 years that would not be enjoyed by a new market entrant.

Additional Business Highlights

- This is an efficient and effective, highly-organized, turn-key business with continually-refined systems and processes that make every functional area of the business flow. For example, part of the quality control process involves doing a thorough inspection of all products delivered by suppliers to this business' warehouse, so that issues are caught up-front rather than late in the process which could cause delays and a less-than-satisfactory end-of-project completion customer experience. Another part of quality control is an inspection process at the end of the project with a lead project installer during which the customer can inspect, ask questions, and be taught how to operate their new windows.
- Unlike many competitors, window installation is never outsourced. Having employees do all installation gives the business full control of service, installation methods, and scheduling to ensure a consistent, quality service and product.
- The company has good relationships with vendors. The business enjoys good relationships with vendors, none of which it depends on to the point where there aren't available substitute products which minimizes the risk of supplier price, availability, and service. The volume and payment history with its vendors gives this company a greater choice of products and better pricing.
- Very little true inventory equates to less unproductive capital and lower financial risk. Products are ordered for specific jobs and the customer pays about 50% of the contracted amount before costs are incurred, which limits financial risk for the business.
- Large increase in Gross Profit Margin and corresponding increase in EBITDA Margin. Two years ago the company's Operations Manager started focused on better buying (quantity & early payment discounts, better negotiated pricing, etc.). This helped the company increase its gross profit margin from less than 61% in 2016 & 2017 to over 71% in 2021, with the increase in gross profit falling to the bottom line (2016 EBITDA margin 13% and 2021 EBITDA margin at 25%).
- The business is not operated 24/7, which allows an owner or manager to have a life. The business is operated from 7:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. Monday to Friday. Furthermore, quality well-trained staff, give the owner confidence that if he returned from a one-month vacation the business would still be operating well despite his absence.
- Strong projected remodeling activity provides optimism for future demand. Harvard University's Joint Center for Housing Studies' Leading Indicator of Remodeling Activity, projects that 4-quarter residential remodeling activity growth will increase from 7.6% in Q3 of 2021 to 12.3% in Q3 of 2022.

Opportunities

- Develop an exclusive sales quoting software system. Using a database program like Filemaker Pro it would not likely be terribly difficult to create a sales quoting software tool. If the sales team could accurately prepare and provide quotes to customers the same day as appointments, it may make sales staff more efficient, increase perceptions of great customer service, and further improve sale closing rates.
- Market expansion. Open a 2nd location in Central or Southern Oregon. The company's systems, processes, expertise, branding, vendor relationships & pricing, and customer reviews may allow it to achieve good financial results out of the gate.
- Offer repair services. Repair services such as small structural repair work and glass replacement for existing aluminum windows could provide a revenue stream while also developing a relationship with a potential future window replacement customer.
- Create a recurring revenue model product. A service such as glass cleaning / annual windows maintenance package may provide a stream of recurring revenue while also developing / maintaining a relationship with the customer for future window needs.
- Increase the sales force. Most of the company's current business comes from in-bound inquiries based on word-of-mouth and web-based reviews and advertising. Increasing the sales force may provide the opportunity to secure more business.
- Sell products to contractors and DIYers. Most general contractors and DIYers are unable to obtain, on their own, the products that this Company has access to, and instead buy standard-size windows from places like Home Depot. There may be an opportunity to sell just the product (which can be in customized sizes) to these market segments without doing the installation.
- Do a roll-up of other companies in the highly fragmented window and door installation industry. While there is risk in acquiring lower quality companies, growth through acquisition could help a buyer more rapidly expand while potentially improving profitability of the target companies through synergies, elimination of redundant expenses, economies of scale, and better systems and processes.
